CHINESE PLAN DRIVE TO GET BACK NANKING

Continue Reports Of Victories In Shantung

Shanghai, April 11—(AP)—Chinese said today they were preparing a gigantic drive toward the Yangtze river in an effort to retake Nanking, the capital they lost to Japanese December 11.

Reporting new sweeping victories along the Tientsin-Pukow railway and Taiachang front, the Chinese saw these asserted victories as inspiration for the new offensive.

A strong Chinese force along the Tientsin-Pukow line, awaiting an expected Japanese drive northward against Hsuehchow, was reported ready to change its tactics and strike out toward Pengpu, about 100 miles north of Nanking.

Japanese acknowledged three Chinese attacks in the vicinity of Pengpu but said they were repulsed and that Chinese losses were heavy.

Heavy Japanese reinforcements were poured into Shantung province yesterday from North China and Tientsin, Shantung seaport, to prevent a threatened isolation of Japanese legions along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Far in the south, Japanese bombed Canton Sunday. More than 100 persons, including many girl workers in a weaving plant, were reported killed.

Capture Railway Town

Chinese forces from Suiyuan province operating along the Peiping-Suiyuan railway reported they had captured the important railway town of Taohien.

An outbreak of guerrilla fighting in the Shantung section left 50 Chinese corpses strewn along a highway after 100 Chinese in plain clothes unsuccessfully attacked the Chenju station at night.

PLANES RAID HUNAN

Hankow, April 11—(AP)—Tsinghua University and Hunan University were hard hit when Japanese bombing planes raided Changsha, in Hunan province, yesterday.

Tsinghua University originally was established at Peiping with a portion of the Boxer indemnity funds America gave back to China. It was removed from Peiping after the outbreak of the present war.

Reports from Changsha said several university buildings were destroyed in the raid and 50 students were casualties.

FRANCO NEAR BARCELONA

Hendaye, France, at the Spanish frontier, April 11—(AP)—The Spanish insurgents crossed the Segre river at Balaguer in one of the bloodiest battles of the Catalonia offensive and put themselves in position today for a direct assault on Barcelona.

Under cover of heavy artillery fire and airplane bombardment, the main body of General Jose Moscardó's Navarrese and Galician troops effected the crossing on pontoon bridges.

Bayonet attacks enabled the insurgents to consolidate their positions east of the river with a four-mile thrust along the road leading to the provisional capital of government Spain—75 miles away. Balaguer is 14 miles northeast of Lerida, which has been a quiet sector since its capture.

While Moscardó's central body of troops prepared the way for the push on Barcelona, other insurgent forces along the flanks of the 135-mile Catalonia front continued their efforts to cut the remaining chunk of government territory in

Oregon Store Is Damaged By Fire

Oregon, April 11—(AP)—Paul Bergner, living in an apartment on the second floor of the building owned by Mrs. S. O. Garard of this city, summoned the fire department Sunday morning at 12:30 when he detected smoke pouring from the first floor of the building, which is occupied by the Neil Allen ladies' ready-to-wear shop. The fire was found to have started in the basement of the building, probably from defective wiring, and had gained considerable headway.

The McCarthy family, which also occupies an apartment on the second floor, was almost overcome by the smoke and it was some time before the members could be aroused and removed. The fire damage was confined to the basement but the floor in the store was badly scorched and the entire stock and the equipment of a beauty parlor in the rear was damaged by smoke and water. The fire department responded as soon as Mr. Bergner turned in the alarm and worked until 4 o'clock Sunday morning before leaving the scene. Mr. Allen carried no insurance on the stock and the damage to the building was reported to have been only partially covered by insurance.

Prophetstown School Boy Drowns In Rock River Sunday Afternoon

(Telegraph Special Service)

Prophetstown, April 11—Richard MacDougall, 14, son of City Mail Carrier and Mrs. Carl MacDougall, was drowned at about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when a boat in which he and Ralph Thede, 17, were rowing on Rock river, about a mile above this city, capsized. Both boys were wearing hip boots and Thede, a good swimmer, was able to keep afloat while he removed his boots and some of his clothing, and swam to shore. Richard, attempting to do the same thing, sank.

Heroism

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Trampled by a runaway horse after saving his wife and two infant children from possible injury or death, the Rev. Russell Williams, a Pentecostal minister, was reported in a serious condition at a hospital today.

Mr. Williams and his family were crossing a drive in Lincoln Park yesterday when two runaway horses bore down upon them. He shouted a warning to his wife who stepped safely aside with a three-year-old child. He then quickly pushed to safety a buggy containing a two-months-old baby.

One of the horses flashed by, but the other knocked the minister to the pavement. He suffered a skull fracture.

HUGE FUND FOR WORK RELIEF IS THOUGHT NEEDED

Roosevelt, Leaders Agree On Billion And a Quarter

Washington, April 11—(AP)—President Roosevelt and congressional and departmental leaders agreed today a $1,250,000,000 appropriation would be needed for work relief for the first seven months of the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The appropriation, to be recommended in a special message to Congress in the next few days, would be for WPA alone. It compares with a budget estimate of $1,000,000,000, submitted to Congress in January to cover the entire new fiscal year and $1,750,000,000 being spent for WPA and other relief activities this fiscal year.

The White House conference also agreed on additional $500,000,000 should be appropriated for the civilian conservation corps for the next fiscal year. This would enable the CCC to maintain its existing 1,250 camps. Otherwise, Democratic leaders said, 300 camps would have to be abandoned July 1.

Senate leader Barkley, speaking for the conferees, said the conference did not discuss the proposed expenditure of $1,500,000,000 for "pump priming" public works. He said this would be taken up later. Some advisers have recommended it to the President.

Must Last Until 1939

Barkley said the $1,250,000,000 for work relief would be earmarked for WPA alone with the understanding that it must last until February 1, 1939.

He said the increased fund would preserve WPA rolls at approximately 2,600,000. Without the added money, he said, 400,000 persons would have to be cut off the rolls.

Labor leaders and the United States conference of mayors have contended 3,500,000 persons would have to be given jobs. Asked about this, Barkley said any additional money unemployed over the present enrollment of 2,600,000 would be taken care of under the pump priming program.

He added when Congress returned in January it would be able to ascertain what the needs were beyond February 1.

"We are simply preserving the situation as it is," he said. "None of this program is pump priming."

Plan Criticized

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) has criticized the use of public works in an attempt to "prime the pump" of business. He declared it offered only "a transient and artificial prosperity."

Representative Snell of New York, Republican leader in the House, also attacked "run-away spending."

Lievan Rites Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Louis Lievan who passed away Saturday afternoon after a short illness will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home, Rev. L. W. Walter will officiate and burial will be in the mausoleum in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Lievan is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Ray C. Cramer; three sons, Walter E., Robert E. of Marion township and Avery of South Dixon township and one sister, Mrs. Carrie Moeller of Nelson township.

Service Station Is Robbed During Night

Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy Gilbert Finch were called to the Hasseberg service station at the Shaw's station corners in Lee Center township this morning to investigate a robbery during the night. Mr. Hasseberg, who is a member of the grand jury which reported in the circuit court today, discovered that his place of business had been entered when he opened the station this morning. A rear window had been forced and the building thoroughly ransacked.

Listed among the articles taken were the following: one set of socket wrenches; several packages of smoking tobacco and cigarettes; a new automobile heater and connections; six dozen pairs of canvas gloves; several packages of gum and candy; one dozen cans of oysters; one dozen cans of corn; several packages of garden and flower seeds; one set of drill bits and 40 quart cans of lubricating oil.

WHITNEY GIVEN PRISON TERM OF 5 TO TEN YEARS

Will Serve Sentence In Sing Sing For Grand Larceny

New York, April 11—(AP)—Richard Whitney, bankrupt broker and former president of the New York stock exchange, was sentenced today to serve five to 10 years in prison for grand larceny.

Whitney, whose brokerage firm, Richard Whitney & Co., failed on March 8, had pleaded guilty to two indictments charging first degree grand larceny in the misuse of securities entrusted to his care by the New York Yacht club and members of his family.

Judge Owen W. Bohan, in general sessions, sentenced Whitney to the five to 10 year sentence on each indictment, the sentences to run concurrently.

Whitney, who at no time since his financial crash stunned Wall Street—his firm had done considerable business for J. P. Morgan & Co.—had shown any outward sign of emotion, took the words of Judge Bohan calmly. He will serve the sentence in Sing Sing prison.

Long Plea Futile

His attorney, Charles H. Tuttle, made a long plea for leniency. Judge Bohan, however, had before him a lengthy memorandum, prepared by Thomas E. Dewey, district attorney, recommending a "substantial punitive sentence."

Under the time off for good behavior system, a five to 10 year sentence can be completed in about three and one-half years.

The first indictment to which Whitney pleaded guilty was procured by Dewey and charged the misappropriation of $109,000 worth of securities belonging to the New York Yacht club, of which Whitney was treasurer.

The second, obtained by the office of State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., charged misuse of $105,000 in securities belonging to a trust fund set up by Whitney's father-in-law, the late George R. Sheldon, for the benefit of Mrs. Whitney and her sister.

Robert Hunter Is Made Jury Foreman

Robert Hunter of East Grove township was appointed foreman of the grand jury for the April term of the Lee county circuit court when the panel reported to Judge Leon A. Zick of Oregon, who is presiding at the term, this morning. Judge Harry Edwards of this city is sitting at the spring term of the circuit court of Carroll county at Mt. Carroll where he will preside Wednesday. Judge Zick today ordered the calling of the Lee county court's docket Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock when the trial list will be completed.

The grand jury for the term is composed of the following: Julius Kugler, Alto; A. M. Barnhart, Amboy; George Schabacker, Ashton; Henry Bothe, Bradford; Joseph Gehant, Brooklyn; George Pankhurst, China; A. C. Handell and Barclay Bowles, Dixon; Robert Hunter, East Grove; Elmer Hoge, Hamilton; Paul Heilest, Harmon; Oscar Hasseberg, Lee Center; Joseph Swamy, Marion; John Stewart, Sr.; Marcus Gonnemann, Nachusa; Oscar Sadler, Nelson; William Shore, Palmyra; Joy Sandberg, Reynolds; Oscar Travis, South Dixon; Frank Henkel, Sublette; L. R. Jorgenson, Willow Creek, and Harley Thomas, Wyoming.

The jury lost no time in completing their investigation and filing their report with Judge Zick this afternoon. Two cases were submitted by State's Attorney Edw. Jones before noon today and after dinner the grand jury made their regular inspection of the county jail and court house property.

True bills were returned in each of the cases presented as follows: Ben Tholen and Henry Lowery, Dixon, attempt to commit arson, bond being set at $1,000 each. John Becker, Sublette, assault with intent to commit rape, bond set at $5,000.

State Police Ordered To Help Guard Chicago Precincts During Poll

Gov. Horner Assigns Officer and Cars To Aid Courtney

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Governor Horner added facilities of the Illinois highway police today to the already huge army of city police and special officers organized to oversee the primary election balloting in Chicago and Cook county tomorrow.

The governor placed at least 35 regular state policemen, the same number of state police automobiles, and facilities of the state police radio station here at the disposal of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

This step coincided with first reports of pre-primary violence, in which an election clerk was mysteriously shot and two men who

Tuesday's Weather

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Sunshine and rising temperatures were the prediction today of Forecaster J. R. Lloyd for Illinois' primary tomorrow.

In Chicago, Lloyd said, the temperature would remain in the fifties, but downstate a top of 65 was indicated for Springfield and 75 for Cairo and vicinity.

"All things considered," the forecaster said, "it will be perfect election weather."

MINOR ACCIDENT

Cars driven by Olin Wilson and Harold Grieb of this city, figured in a collision Saturday evening about 11 o'clock on Peoria avenue and Eighth street. Wilson went to the police station and reported the accident. Both cars were said to have been considerably damaged, but the occupants escaped uninjured.

DIED IN CHICAGO

Word was received in Dixon Sunday of the death of Chicago of Alex Collinsgrove. He is survived by one sister, Grace Collinsgrove, of New York City, his father and one brother having preceded him in death within the past six weeks. The remains will arrive in Dixon by train, Tuesday at 1:45 P. M., and will be taken directly to Oakwood cemetery for burial.

TODAY A MILESTONE

Today is a milestone in the history of Dixon, for 108 years ago—April 11, 1830—John Dixon, the founder of this city, and his family arrived here from Boyd's Grove in what is now Bureau county, to take possession of Ogee's Ferry across Rock river, which Father Dixon had leased a month previously.

L. M. Taylor, assistant superintendent of the state highway police, arrived here to swear in approximately 150 special policemen who will be assigned to three-man squads by Courtney to patrol each of Chicago's 50 wards. The state aid to Courtney followed Horner's charge that "hoodlums" were terrorizing his Democratic faction's workers.

10,000 Police Wards

Besides Courtney's police and the regular Chicago police, the board of election commissioners was swearing in approximately 400 special police of its own. Combined with pool watchers designated by the party factions, it was assured more than 10,000 persons would police the voting at Chicago's 3,648 polling places.

Meanwhile, divergence of expert opinion developed over the size of the vote expected in the state. Guesses ranged all the way from 2,000,000 to 2,250,000 and higher. The latter figure would be an all-time off-year primary record.

Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville, Democratic state chairman, expressed doubt of a record turnout, however. He said public interest, despite the bitter Democratic factional strife, was considerably less than in 1936, when a record 2,674,613 votes was recorded in the presidential-governorship primary.

The vote in the last off-year primary of 1934 was 2,134,223.

Charges Fly Fast

As the heated campaign drew to a close, oratory continued in full force.

Horne, speaking in the 8th regiment armory last night, asserted that U. S. District Attorney Michael L. Igo was receiving the support of Communists.

Igo flatly denied the charge, calling it a "roarback of the cheap kind."

"I never heard of this so-called endorsement, I didn't look for it, and I do not accept it if indeed such an endorsement was ever made," he said.

Both Igo and Congressman

MODIFIED TAX ON UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS SOUGHT

Senate Struck This Out Of Revenue Bill Recently

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Administration leaders will make a final attempt this week to preserve a modified tax on undistributed corporate profits, which the Senate struck out of the five billion dollar revenue bill.

They will take their arguments before a joint conference committee entrusted with settling the broad differences between the Senate and House tax programs.

Appointment of the committee, often called the "third house" of Congress, awaited formal House rejection of the Senate bill. The original House measure carried out most of the administration's tax ideas, but the Senate passed legislation late Saturday embodying recommendations of business men, who had denounced the undistributed profits levy.

Some legislators predicted the conference committee would restore that tax, but Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the Senate finance committee commented:

For Senate Bill

"Of course, I am for the Senate bill, and I hope its major provisions will be adopted. It is a good bill that will help to encourage business and relieve unemployment."

Harrison would not predict what the conference committee might do to a Senate provision making interest on all future government securities issues subject to federal income taxes.

This provision, offered by Senator Borah (D-Ida), was inserted by a vote of 34 to 33 over the combined opposition of Harrison and

To this union one daughter was born, Mrs. Floyd Bastine of Downer's Grove. Mrs. Mosholder preceded him in death. On Oct. 24, 1918, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Hortense Bradley in Dixon. He leaves to mourn his passing, his widow, one daughter, and three grandchildren besides a host of friends. PROMPT HELP FOR RAILWAYS MESSAGE URGE

President Sends Plea To Congress for Immediate Action

Washington, April 11—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for "some immediate legislation" to forestall prospective operating difficulties of the railroads, but made no specific recommendations.

He gave the legislators a strong hint, however, that he believed any long-time legislation should provide for incorporating all executive agencies dealing with transportation in one department.

This, he said, "would seem to be the part of common sense."

At the same time he sent to the legislators the report of the three-man committee of the interstate commerce commission he had asked to study the railroad situation and comments made on the report by Secretary Morgenthau, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Corporation, railway executives, labor officials and others.

Some Recommendations

This report recommended as methods of affording immediate relief:

That $300,000,000 be made available from government funds for purchasing railroad equipment, the equipment to be the security for advances.

That the RFC be empowered for 12 months to make railway loans without certification by the interstate commerce commission that the railroad can meet its fixed charges.

That other forms of government credit be considered.

That government traffic pay the full rate by eliminating land grant reductions.

The committee members—Commissioners Walter M. W. Splawn, Joseph B. Eastman and Charles D. Mahaffie—said they did not feel justified in expressing an opinion on whether railroad wages should be reduced.

Called "Over Cautious"

The opponent of Secretary Morgenthau regarding the report expressed disappointment, terming it an "over-cautious approach to the pressing national problem of transportation" which he said "can only intensify the need for drastic action at a later date."

He urged instead that the president request congress to create immediately a department of transportation with power to "more vigorously x x x properly co-ordinate our national transportation facilities."

The ICC committee recommended as a long-term program:

1. That a federal transportation authority be created for two years to plan and promote action by railroad companies to eliminate waste, aid consolidation and co-ordination.

2. That the interstate commerce act be amended to broaden the powers of the commission with respect to pooling of earnings or traffic, to eliminate "the consolidation plan" and to approve unifications; that the authority be permitted to intervene in such proceedings before the commission, and make recommendations thru the commission to the president of the Congress.

3. That the authority investigate economy and all types of transportation, encourage special fitness and abate destructive competition.

4. That attention be given to railroad financial abuses now under investigation by congress.

FOR TEMPORARY SCHOOL

Springfield, Ill., April 11—(AP)—Governor Horner authorized the expenditure of $4,500 from the disaster relief fund today for the establishment of a temporary school building in South Pekin to replace the one destroyed by a tornado recently. The war department approved the use of an abandoned CCC barracks with the agreement the state furnish funds for its transportation to South Pekin.

INFORMATION ON CROWS DESIRED BY UNIVERSITY

Natural History Survey Studying Economic Status of Birds

Urbana, Ill., April 11.—Determination of the economic status of the crow in Illinois is the subject of a scientific investigation now being carried on here. Sponsored by the graduate school of the University of Illinois, the state department of conservation and the National Association of Audubon societies, the investigation is being conducted by the Illinois natural history survey. "At present," states Dr. T. H. Frison, chief of the Illinois natural history survey, "there is a great controversy among conservationists, agriculturists and sportsmen concerning the value of the crow and the advisability of the extermination campaigns now being waged against this bird."

C. T. Black, research fellow of the Illinois natural history survey, who is conducting the field work, has already censused the number of crows in winter roosts over the state and is now studying the feeding and nesting habits of the birds. Over 2,500 specimens, supplied by the state department of conservation, have already been examined in the laboratory.

Much of the success of the investigation, Black points out, depends upon the co-operation received from interested persons throughout Illinois.

Information Sought

Information desired by Black relates to the extent and nature of damage by crows, location of their winter roosts, personal observations on their feeding habits and statements on the increase or decrease of crow populations in local areas, and over the state as a whole. He especially desires to contact persons who have observed crows over a long period of years. He may be addressed in care of the Experimental Zoology Laboratory, Champaign.

Over 75 winter roosts, varying in size from 100 to 100,000 birds, have been reported over the state. Further roost information is desired and should include location and size, dates of occupation and duration, and general description of the usual roosting site.

Sportsmen and farmers killing crows are urged to send the birds to Black. Only by examination of the stomach contents of a large number of crows, he points out, can he secure definite information concerning their food. To supplement this information, he desired "eyewitness" accounts of the extent of crop depredations on game birds, song birds, poultry, and crops.

Already, Black states, crows have commenced nesting activities. He is seeking information concerning the location and description of nests, dates of nesting, number of eggs and young, and the local abundance of nesting crows in different sections of the state.

Not Guilty

Clothes Moths Are Often Blamed Erroneously Says Entomologist

Urbana, Ill., April 11.—Housecleaning housewives often blame the clothes moth for damage it does not do, W. E. McCauley, assistant entomologist, Illinois natural history survey, said today. The real culprit is frequently the carpet beetle, more common and more difficult to control than the webbing clothes moth with which it is confused.

"The true clothes moths," McCauley said, "do more damage once they become established in a home. But the carpet beetles are far more common so that they cause more worry and, taken collectively, probably do about as much damage as do the true clothes moths. The carpet beetles are able to survive on many more different materials than the clothes moth. They are as much at home in the grain elevator as they are in the home because they thrive very well on cereals and cereal products." The carpet beetle is also able to fly greater distances than the moth and is therefore more easily spread.

The clothes moths, McCauley pointed out, make a web or feeding tube through which the larvae crawl. On the other hand, the carpet beetles never spin any kind of web. According to McCauley, "The carpet beetles usually cut holes clear through the material, while the moths are more likely to feed along the surface."

Not all measures that will control clothes moths are effective against carpet beetles, McCauley said. Both insects, however, may be controlled by naphthalene "moth balls" or paradichlorobenzene. "For protection, the materials must be used in amounts sufficient to cause discomfort to the eyes and nose when exposed to the vapor."

Many housewives, McCauley stated, fail to secure protection from moths or carpet beetles because they do not use the repellents in sufficient quantities. Others fail because they place their fabrics or clothes in containers which are not actually moth proof. Still others fail because in cleaning house they overlook an old piece of material which is infested with moths or carpet beetles and which acts as a breeding place for the insects.

"At housecleaning time," McCauley stated, "all materials subject to attack should be brushed well and hung in bright sunshine when the temperature is high. This practice is usually followed, especially with the more valuable items, but often the older garments are overlooked. Frequently it is these abandoned items that serve to reinfest the other more valuable items. For example, a doll or other toy stuffed with hair may harbor sufficient larvae to damage a valuable coat. Usually it is items of small value that are overlooked as breeding places."

The Chinese beetle has such an acute sense of smell that it is able to locate its mate 10 miles away.

SALVATION ARMY CORPS IN DIXON

Sterling, Freeport Recently Given Organization

The word has come from Major T. M. Larsen, the Illinois Salvation Army divisional commander that a corps with trained officers in charge will be established in Dixon following the recent organization of such corps in Sterling and Freeport. The army does a peculiar and effective work the year round among the underprivileged and unfortunate and these will have the needed attention better than heretofore in this region with the work established here.

The annual Salvation Army appeal for funds is now being made here with headquarters in the Legion hall in charge of the Rev.

John M. Linden. Heretofore the funds given were used in the state work but hereafter they will stay here and will be used by the local Salvation Army officers for local work.

Since the funds now remain here that are given locally and in order to give the Army the chance to do the uplift and relief work the unfortunate in the city need, the committee hopes that many here will give increased contributions over those given in the past appeals. No doubt, many here will gladly do that.

DO YOU KNOW ILLINOIS?

By EDWARD J. HUGHES,
Secretary of State

Q. Who was Theophilus W. Smith?

A. A Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court tried on impeachment charge in 1833.

Q. On what specific charges was Smith tried?

A. Selling a circuit clerk's office, swearing out vexatious writs, returnable before himself, for the purpose of oppressing innocent men by holding them to bail, imprisoning a Quaker for not taking off his hat in court, and suspending a lawyer from practice because he had advised his client to apply a change of venue from his circuit.

Q. Who defended Smith?

A. Sidney Breese, Richard M. Young, and Thomas Ford.

Q. What was the result of the trial?

A. A negative acquittal by the Senate. Twelve Senators concurred in holding him guilty, ten were in favor of acquittal and four were excused from voting, a two-thirds majority being required for conviction.

Q. When was John Reynolds first elected to Congress?

A. 1834.

Q. How many terms did Reynolds serve?

A. Three. He closed his congressional career in 1843 and in 1846 was elected to the State legislature, re-elected in 1852 when he served as speaker of the house.

Q. What other high office did Reynolds hold?

A. Governor, 1830-1834; Justice of the Supreme Court, 1818-1825. In 1839 he was appointed the financial agent of the state to effect a loan in England under the internal improvement system.

Q. What was John Quincy Adams' estimate, as shown in his diary, of Reynolds?

A. Although Reynolds was a good Latin, Greek and French scholar he hid his learning because of the contempt of early settlers for "book learning" and as a result Adams, who disliked him, referred to him as

"coarse, vulgar, ignorant, and knavish."

Q. What was Reynolds' attitude toward the Civil War?

A. He wrote to Governor Smith of Virginia sustaining the South, and to Jefferson Davis advising a resort to arms for the disruption of the Union.

Q. What notable literary work did Reynolds write during his late years?

A. "Pioneer History of Illinois."

FATAL COLLISION

Brazil, Ind., April 11—(AP)—An auto-truck collision late Saturday night killed three Illinoisans. John W. Minier, 38, and his wife, Leona, 34, of Mattoon, and Richard Carroll of Charleston. The accident occurred on U. S. highway 40, seven miles east of here.

Brain Twizzlers

By
PROF. J. D. FLINT

Lamps in the northland are the chief means of illumination. The lamp with which we deal today is a common oil lamp. The chief figure involved in this little story is a government hunter sent out to capture a specific animal which had been marked for study by government naturalists. This hunter had travelled for a number of days from outpost to outpost where small cabins had been built for travelers. This one night the hunter found a cabin bare of furnishings except an oil lamp. With his flashlight he examined the lamp and found it to be half full of oil but when he tried to light it he discovered that the wick was very short and would not reach down to the oil. This presented a problem and with no equipment it seemed difficult to solve. This hunter was not the same man who dropped stones into the jar of water to bring the level up, anyway, there weren't any stones available. How did he make oil and wick meet?

Answer to Saturday's Twizzler

The reptile which the missionary claimed he had seen must have been ten feet long with a head two and a half feet long, a body four and a half feet long and a tail three feet long.

THE HOUSE SAID 'NO'!

Defeat of President Roosevelt's reorganization bill in the House of Representatives portends a partial return to sanity in governmental affairs. House members who opposed the measure proved they could not be purchased by promises of federal largess, nor intimidated by threats of reprisal. The vote was no proof that the legislators are blind to the need of greater economy and efficiency in conduct of government business. Greater efficiency was hardly to be hoped for under wildcat New Deal leadership, and substantial economy was not even promised. The House action was, as New Deal leaders feared, a repudiation of the Rooseveltian desire for more power and influence; a damming of the stream that leads to the deep waters of dictatorship.

The conservative victory was not a rout. It would have been better had the Senate killed the measure outright. It would have been better had the House killed the bill outright instead of sending it back to committee. What this economically sick nation needs is not only a negative victory, but a direct repudiation of the errant principles, or lack of them, that have kept constructive leadership in the doghouse.

However, one should not expect too much of a single vote in the House of Representatives. After this we may hope the Senate will take courage. There are leaders in both branches of the Congress and the future will be brighter when they are recognized.

If, as Senator Bankhead feared, the vote to recommend the bill was a repudiation of the president and his leadership, then the president and his political allies stand repudiated. Contrary to some fears, however, the House action was not essentially a throwing aside of the sound element in the Democratic party. The vote was aimed at the irregular fringe and it hit the bullseye.

Another encouraging sign was the deluge of telegrams and letters sent to Washington by citizens awakened at last to their responsibilities. Another good omen was the effect these messages had.

WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW

The fifth amendment to the constitution of the United States, one of the articles in the Bill of Rights, provides: "No person shall . . . be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation."

That was in the constitution as soon as the new government could ratify the Bill of Rights submitted by the first Congress. When the amendments were adopted subsequent to the Civil War, dealing with the issues of that conflict, the thirteenth prohibited slavery and the fourteenth consisted of five sections covering a wide range of topics. The fourteenth incorporated that portion of the fifth amendment quoted above, directing the injunction against the states, in the following language:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which should abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

After fifty years during which the Supreme Court of the United States has taken the position that the fact that a person's property is invested in a corporation does not thereby exclude the "person" from constitutional protection, Justice Black hastened to make his imprint upon the record of the court by dissenting from such an idea. He asserts that when the fourteenth amendment was ratified in 1868 the modern concept of the corporation was common, and that if the amendment had been intended for corporations it would have said so.

If there were no precedent of fifty years' standing, and no record of a statement of the intent of the framers of the amendment extant, it still might be reasoned that a man's property came under such injunction whether it be money in his pocket, his dwelling, or his investment in a corporation. It is incredible that we should adopt the rule that you can deprive a corporation of its property without depriving stockholders of theirs.

But there is some support of the contention upon which the court's decisions for half a century have been based. It was presented to the court in 1885 by Roscoe Conklin in the San Mateo rate case. He had a long record in Congress. Associated with him in that litigation were Senator George F. Edmunds and William M. Evarts, former secretary of state and attorney general of the United States.

Conklin was a member of the House of Representatives when the amendment was formulated. He was a member of the joint committee of both houses that formulated it. He assured the court that the committee had intended the amendment to protect property of persons whether it was invested in business, in firms, in corporations, or just money in hand.

In support of his contention, he submitted the minutes of the committee in manuscript. Whether the minutes supported him or not, he was convinced sufficiently to present them to the court. The court was sufficiently convinced to hold with Conklin and Edmunds and Evarts.

So, it appears that the question was raised just one year before Justice Black was born, and at the time it was raised the enactment of the amendment was no more remote than the adoption of the prohibition amendment now is from us. Men who took part in the proceedings could have very good recollections of the considerations and the conclusions in relation thereto.

If a great wrong had been perpetuated through an erroneous beginning and a misconception by the court it might be time to begin "rewriting the constitution" by court decisions on that point, but, when we think of it, why shouldn't a man's savings invested in stocks of a corporation have the same protection as his savings invested in a dwelling?

Weddings to the right and weddings to the left—and spring has just begun her cupid influences. A few of the leftovers may be sighing soon to the tune of "ever a best man, but never a groom" and misery may seek company when the whirlwind of spring has passed leaving a group of dazed but untied young men. If such a clan would like to organize—with officers and everything fancy—it might snatch at the lifesaver offered as precedent by a band of Oregon chaps in the dear, dead days almost beyond recall. This chapter, flecked with the vinear from sour grapes, might be entitled "It Is Better to Have Loved and Lost Than, Sometimes, to Have Loved and Won" and to dissolve that down we get

CHAPTER THIRTY

On Aug. 14, 1908, an Oregon bachelors' club known as The Owls reached its majority and celebrated its 29th annual picnic. This festive occasion marked the yearly flowering time of the historic society. "The Owls" was the pseudonym of wisdom by which the club was designated and the procession of its members in the morning sunlight (for it was said to be a fact that it never rained on just the heads of these bachelors) gay with yellow sunflowers and the sheltering umbrella of the same golden hue, from under which the doughty holder could not glance at the fair onlookers along the way to "Island No. 1," was one of the much-heralded events of midsummer in the region around Oregon.

Loud sounds of hooting awoke the reverberations along the Rock River Valley some weeks before the great event, and many whisperings of fried chicken, and other appetizing viands for the day's feast were faintly heard.

As nearly as can be ascertained, the charter members of this club were: J. H. Cartwright, George P. Jacobs, J. W. Bardwell, F. R. Artz, J. D. C. Artz, George F. Snyder, J. W. Elnyre, L. C. Hornell, J. S. Sanders, C. W. A. Reynolds, John Rutledge, James N. Davis, C. H. Hornell, Ben Swartz, S. Munn, A. L. Ettinger, E. Brown and S. D. Wallace—eighteen in all.

The constitution of the club was prepared by J. H. Cartwright, George Jacobs, F. R. Artz, John Rutledge, James Davis, with John

Rutledge as scribe. From the record book we reprint for the consideration of all lone males:

PREAMBLE

"Whereas, It has become necessary to resist the encroachments of a common enemy by banding ourselves together for mutual protection and defense against the wiles of the fair sex and the blandishments of anxious mammas; and Whereas, The fair sex have repeatedly, and against our earnest protestations and entreaties, endeavored to draw us from the path of rectitude by picnic and croquet, which action demands from every lover of freedom prompt and energetic measures; Therefore, Resolved, That we associate ourselves together for the promotion of the objects aforesaid under the following Constitution:

ARTICLE I

"Sec. 1. This association shall be styled the Oregon Bachelors' club, which action demands from every lover of freedom prompt and energetic measures; Therefore, Resolved, That we associate ourselves together for the promotion of the objects aforesaid under the following Constitution:

"Sec. 2. This club shall consist of the present members of the same and such other single gentlemen as shall be admitted at any regular meeting of the club by a majority vote of the members thereof.

ARTICLE IV

"Sec. 1. The members of this club are strictly forbidden from entering into any matrimonial alliances, except the permission of the Grand Deacons being first had and obtained therefor and permission shall not be granted except upon withdrawal of the member from the club and the payment of such sum as will provide refreshments for the club at its next meeting."

The annual meeting—and such is the irony of fate—was set to occur on the island in Rock river later named for a woman, and one who was unmarried at the time of her visit to it—Margaret Fuller island.

At first an annual ball was given to which ladies were invited, but after a time even this concession was dropped. The pioneer bachelors carried black sunshade, but this proved too somber for a merry spirit. The membership of the club few champions are Thomas Kennedy, lieutenant governor and official of the United Mine Workers, and Mayor S. David Wilson of Philadelphia, who was elected as a Republican. Kennedy is running for governor, Wilson for senator.

Rooseveltian Reynolds

North Carolina, June 4—Senator Bob Reynolds, mellifluous incumbent, opposed by Representative Franklin Hancock, who has little chance to win. Reynolds is campaigning as a red-hot Rooseveltian; Hancock as "the people's friend."

Iowa, June 6—Senator Guy Gillette, statuesque in-and-out administration supporter, opposed by Representative Otha D. Wearin, 35-year-old liberal who has White House blessing if not more substantial encouragement. The GOP contest is between Lloyd Thurston, seven-term Congressman, and Lester (Dog Food) Dickinson, who lost his Senate seat in the 1936 Roosevelt landslide.

North Dakota, June 28—Senator Gerald Nye is facing the fight of his life against Governor Bill Langer, who was ousted from the state house a few years back following conviction on charges of mishandling relief funds.

Oklahoma, July 12—Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, whose chief opponent to date is Governor Ernest W. Marland.

Kansas, August 2—Senator George McGill, Democrat; no opponent announced as yet. Clyde Reed, publisher and former liberal governor, who will run for the Republican nomination, is a sure winner in the primary and a very strong bet against McGill in the November election.

Clark, Berry, Barkley

Missouri, August 2—Senator Bennett Clark, New Deal bolter, will have no difficulty getting renominated and little more in being re-elected. Clark fancies himself a presidential possibility and his return will not dampen his aspirations.

Tennessee, August 4—Senator George (Marble) Berry is being opposed by Representative Jere Cooper, put into the race by Boss Ed Crump of Memphis and Senator Kenneth McKellar. Berry's chances aren't worth the marble for which the TVA refused to pay him.

Kentucky, August 6—A battle of the century is being fought between Senator Alben Barkley, administration floor leader and open White House favorite, and Governor "Happy" Chandler, New Deal critic. Both men are afflicted with presidentialitis.

Arkansas, August 9—Mrs. Hattie Caraway is running against a field composed of Representatives John increased as the years wore away, and its list included a large number of members not only from Oregon but from all over Ogle and other counties and even over the United States.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. I don't feel alarmed over the prospect of women putting aprons on us men and giving us a roller sweeper and of their going out and building the railroads and managing the world generally. I do feel that the emancipation of women is going to make this a happier and better world through giving them the opportunity to express their true capacities, and also through teaching men the value of co-operation with, instead of domination over, the feminine sex. If men show this spirit I think women will always be content to let it be essentially a man's world.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. A study of this important problem was made by Dr. John G. Darley, Minn. University psychologist, and he found that radical men in this group (326 men) had grades about in accord with their abilities, but radical women (217 women) were making grades below what would be expected from their abilities. There was a general tendency for the badly maladjusted students to make grades somewhat below their abilities.

the Ford Motor company, said in Think, paraphrased, Many think all they need is opportunity but opportunity ruins many. Opportunity is a day of judgment, it makes or breaks you. Many a young fellow can sell himself but then he is through—he has nothing to deliver. His opportunity is his defeat—he was not ready. He did not invest in himself. Serious thinking was too hard for his head. Opportunity knocks and finds him out. But, if he has the right stuff in him, he learns by this experience—and the next time opportunity knocks it will find him in.

Ohio, August 9—Senator Robert Bulkeley, Democrat, expert at being on both sides on most issues, is certain to face powerful party opposition.

California, August 30—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo is on the block, but there is doubt whether he will risk his neck. So far he has warily refused to make any announcement.

South Carolina, August 30—Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith, veteran Old Guard, opposed by youthful Governor Olin Johnson, professed New Dealer, who already is giving Smith the scare of his long career as an office-holder.

September will see 15 primaries, chief among them being in Maryland, where New Dealers and laborites are hot after the scalp of anti-administration Senator Millard Tydings; Georgia, where the White House is trying to get Governor Rivers to take on Old Guard Senator Walter George; and in New York, where Senator Bob Wagner is up for another whirl at the wheel.

Stream Pollution Is Topic at Club Meeting

Richard Nelle, sanitary engineer from the state board of health, addressed the Dixon Woman's club Saturday afternoon on the subject of "Stream Pollution." Mr. Nelle is connected with the Illinois Sanitary Water Board, which is making a good record. Surveys have been made of a number of Illinois rivers including the north branch of the Chicago river, DesPlaines river and tributaries, Big Muddy, Wabash, Illinois, Fox and Rock rivers. He exhibited a map of Rock river and tributaries, showing a survey to make this river safe as a recreational district, and explained that practically all towns on the river and tributaries had or soon would have sewage disposal plants. Two more years would clean up this river.

A mile and a half east of Michigan City, Ind., a sign reading "International Friendship Gardens" greets motorists on US-12, and the sightseer who obeys the instructions on this sign and turns left in the direction of the arrow will soon find himself in a scene of unbelievable beauty.

The outgrowth of an exhibit at a Century of Progress, the gardens have now been developed into a mammoth permanent horticultural and floricultural exposition, charter members of which come from some fifty nations. Planted in the rustic hills and dales along Trail Creek are plants and flowers, the seeds for which have been donated by an imposing list that includes kings, queens, dictators, writers and prominent men and women from all over the world.

The formal opening of the gardens will come with the annual tulip show, May 8 to May 30, inclusive, when nearly a million tulips, a gift from the Holland Bulb Growers' association, will be on view in a magnificent display of color arrangements. A continuous garden and flower show with various blooms occupying the center of the stage in their appropriate time, will open June 1. Peonies will take the spotlight during June.

"She Wept On Her Wedding Anniversary"

"Why should any woman," you ask, "weep on her wedding anniversary unless she was a widow?" True, but that is not the case with the weeping lady shown above.

She is crying because it is no fun living 10 years with "Homitosis." Her husband has been guilty of indifference to the importance of having home furnishings that attract friends and provide an inspiring background for their children. What a needless tragedy when the cure for "Homitosis" is so easy and inexpensive.

A trip to the Mellott Furniture Company by the husband of the unfortunate lady above would make her 11th wedding anniversary the exact opposite of her 10th. Mellott's will furnish and fill a prescription, guaranteed to cure "Homitosis."

Sleeping Sickness Victim Recovering

Springfield, Ill., April 11—(AP)—Arthur Kuntzman, 21-year-old sleeping sickness victim, showed further signs of improvement today, but physicians were not yet ready to pronounce him out of danger.

Dr. B. J. Kuly planned to continue the hot and cold metabolism machine applications tomorrow in an effort to rouse the Morrisonville coal miner completely from his 17-day coma.

Kuntzman now is able to take nourishment well, the physician said, obeys instruction and attempts to talk. His eyes have lost their glassy stare and he apparently recognizes persons.

Physicians planned to place Kuntzman in the recently invented metabolism machine for eight more treatments. The device produces sudden temperature changes from below zero to 110 degrees and is designed to stimulate circulation and increase oxygen intake.

State Police—

Scott W. Lucas are seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination. Igoe, who has served 16 years in the state legislature, was endorsed by the Chicago Democratic organization headed by Mayor Kelly and National Committeeman Patrick A. Nash. Lucas, militant former Illinois department commander and one-time National Judge Advocate of the American Legion, heads the governor's Democratic slate.

Alleged "Marching Orders" Shortly after the governor made his reference to the Communists, Lucas, speaking at another meeting, said:

"The Communist party does not have any primary of its own Tuesday, but its members have their marching orders—march into the polls and mark a Democratic ballot for the opponent of Scott W. Lucas."

Later the Igoe headquarters announced receipt of a statement from Morris Childs, state secretary of the Communist party in Illinois, which was quoted as saying in part:

"The eleventh hour introduction of the 'red scare' is an indication apparently of the desperation of the forces supporting Scott W. Lucas. They are apparently in a panic at the solid labor support given to Igoe and therefore resort to tactics used by the Liberty League against President Roosevelt."

Igoe's Counter Attack Igoe, in a radio address, accused Lucas of "dodging and evading" the vote in congress on the government reorganization bill.

"My opponent said he had advised Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of the house that the Roosevelt leadership could count on him to be there when wanted," Igoe said.

"He wasn't there. He didn't vote. Either the Roosevelt leadership felt it could not count upon a Democratic congressman consorting with anti-administration forces in our present primary—or the call came and Governor Horner's candidate ducked."

In another broadcast speech, Lucas said:

"I have challenged my Kelly-Nash opponent to state his principles and I will echo the phrase 'Loyalty to Roosevelt'."

"Loyalty to Roosevelt cannot be an issue in this primary unless the Kelly-Nash candidate is prepared to take the negative, for I have demonstrated my devotion to President Roosevelt."

No New Deal Test Since both Democratic factions have agreed on allegiance to the New Deal, the primary lacked the national importance of a New Deal test in the middle west.

The Democrats feud between the Horner and Kelly-Nash forces virtually has monopolized the campaign. Both sides cried "bossism."

Meanwhile, with the approach of the primary, the governor claimed Lucas would be nominated by at least 250,000, while Igoe said he would roll up a half million majority in Cook county in order to overcome a Lucas edge "downstate."

Harmony has ruled the Republican campaign G. O. P. organizations united behind a slate of candidates headed by Richard J. Lyons, 42-year-old state representative.

1,688,835 Registered

TWO FAMILIES OF NOBLES OF ALGERIA UNITED

Algiers, April 11—(AP)—The sheik of Araby's favorite son and his modern-minded bride-to-be awaited the hour of their wedding today in the sheik's palace of ancient Biskra.

The ceremony, uniting two great families of Algerian nobility, and strictly in accord with the Moslem rites, was preceded by a reception for French officials in which the bridegroom, Si Mohammed Ben Gaida, pledged a continuance of allegiance to the French republic.

The bride, the beautiful Douja Ben Smaia, daughter of a wealthy professor, is equally firm in her support of France.

Educated in European ways, she disdained traditional Moslem custom by making the trip from Algiers to Biskra with her face unveiled. She wore a tailored traveling suit.

Despite her leanings toward European customs, however, she smilingly declared she would adhere to the cloistered life of the Musselmans at Biskra.

"But my European friends will always be welcome visitors," she added, speaking in French. "And when I come to Algiers on a visit, I'll put on my European clothes and drop in to see them. Both of our civilizations have their charms."

The wedding caravan was escorted to Biskra by bronzed tribesmen, garbed in picturesque ceremonial robes. They fired shots in the air to celebrate the occasion. Along the route, desert tribesmen flocked to the roadside bearing presents.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 10.

"The Golden Text was, 'The light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound' (Isaiah 30:26)."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ" (Rev. 12:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man" (p. 99).

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far:

Loving someone else, gently bred Judith Goodloe marries Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover that his fortune is lost. Judith's code insists that stick to her bargain and follow Reuben to a dismal mining town, Fordney's Gulch, Nevada. It is hard for Reuben, desperately loving Judith, to see her struggling with poverty. And it is hard for Judith, whose resentment toward Reuben grows stronger. Then twins are born.

Chapter 24 Old Lady Fate

Reuben, more shaken and frightened than he had ever been in his life, awkwardly welcomed his son and daughter upon their arrival. "Well, young man and woman!" He tried to assume a joviality. Achieved only a raucous huskiness at which both babies burst into a thin, indignant wail—the first words, broadly speaking, which passed between them.

He went in to see Judith with an unaccustomed lump in his throat. "Hello, Reuben!" Judith's eyes were very blue in her white face.

The best Reuben could achieve was a taut jerking of his facial muscles. He felt exactly as though he had stood by and let a smaller boy take a licking that was intended for him. He was glad to get out of the room and out of the hospital.

When he came again it was to take his family home to Casper Street.

"Gosh, Judy!" He looked wonderingly at his offspring. "They're all fired ugly, aren't they?"

"Ugly?" Didn't he know beauty when he saw it? Look at the cunning little hands, the adorable turned-up noses—

Gingerly he carried the twins down to the hired car. When he stopped being afraid he would drop them he found there was something strangely alluring in the feel of their squirming little bodies. He summoned up courage to poke one fat chin, then the other. "How do you like your old Dad?" he demanded.

The startled babies howled in unison.

"Not so good," Reuben decided. "Well—don't raise such a row. Let's get going!"

He and Judith found plenty to talk of now. The children leveled all barriers, upset all traditions. They kept their inexperienced, adoring parents on the jump every minute. The future, immediate and remote, could be discussed without reserve.

"Maybe we can find a house with an extra room," Reuben said, after he had snagged his trousers and raked a shin trying to squeeze between the twin's bathing paraphernalia and the open door of the oven.

"Maybe you can find a better job," Judith suggested.

"You bet I will!" He sounded convincing. Judith must not guess he was hanging to his present job by the skin of his teeth. Each day saw a cutting down of the working force, a lessening of production—Each day he tried to lay by a dollar for the inevitable rainy day.

Meanwhile the twins continued to fill every inch of space. They spilled over the edges as it were.

"Let's get rid of some of these doodads," Reuben suggested, after the Royal Sevres vase had gone crashing to the floor.

Judith consented half-heartedly. "I want the children to grow up appreciative of the finer things of life."

"They'll grow up fatherless if I have many more collisions with the stove. Well store about half of this plunder!" Wondering at the ways of women, Reuben went out in search of a vacant attic.

Judith had thought her first year Casper Street hard. She knew now it had been easy. Two babies to be washed, fed, put to sleep, aired, sun bathed. Milk must be sterilized. Bottles cleaned. Afraid to speak above a whisper lest a twin would awake, howl and awaken the other.

Laughter and Tears

They found a part time maid named Helga. She spoke only when she was spoken to. When in good humor she hummed in a dreary monotone. When in bad humor she banged things about and broke them. She cooked the dinner, washed the clothes, washed the endless dishes.

For the first time in her married life Judith was almost entirely happy. When she thought of Reuben at all she supposed he was happy too. She had no time to analyze her feelings. Whether she loved Reuben or whether she didn't made little difference now. He was her husband. Together they must take care of the children.

Reuben would have been happy too if he could have forgotten the depth to which he had dragged Judith. Saddled her with his children. Made a slave of her. She would have been better off with Brent—

These thoughts went with him as he slouched through the mine. He heard them in the tap, tap of the picks; the raucous sound of the drills; the creak of the derricks—

The twins were crouchy babies. Judith spent anguished hours hanging over cribs. Reuben made record runs for doctor, medicine, helpful neighbors. Life was a heart twisting affair. Laughter followed tears, ease followed pain, joy followed fear as naturally as day follows night and season follows season. The little house that was a sweat box in summer and an ice-box in winter became the hub of the universe for the man and woman who were rearing their young there.

Miraculously the twins survived all their mishaps. Grew dimpled, adorable cuddly. Proudly Judith sent their pictures to Gran—"Love to Gran from Jim and Judy Goodloe Oliver!"

In due time Gran responded with two little dresses, beautifully embroidered by herself and two silver porridge bowls. Gran, however, wrote nothing except a greeting card. She considered herself unfairly used. It was unthinkable that a granddaughter of hers should be tied to an impossible person, whose only saving grace had been money which he had not the sense to hold on to. Perhaps Gran was wise not to write.

When the twins were 11 months old Reuben lost his job.

"You'll get another," Judith, transferring a steak from pan to platter with new expertness, said cheerfully.

"Sure!" Reuben tossed his gurgling daughter high and turned to pick up his riotous son. "We'll probably have to move from this place, though."

"No tears will be shed over that," Judith assured him.

"Not unless we strike a tougher one."

"As if we could!"

"I've seen worse, but why worry about that until we have to? Things may boom here in a week or two."

"Of course. You'll go back to your old job."

He didn't go back to his old job or on to a new one. Milk, meat for broth, fresh vegetables, eggs—the twins must have them all. Reuben's few surplus dollars melted rapidly as snow before a sun.

Moment of Desperation

They let Helga go. One day, Reuben, grim-lipped, went to the city carrying Judith's emerald engagement ring, her pendant, and bracelets. He came back with a blue pawn ticket and a sizeable roll of greenbacks. "Before that money is gone I'll have a job."

He didn't have a job. He didn't even have the prospect of a job.

"I should be able to earn," Judith wondered what she could do. She had enough wedding presents to start a gift shop but there were no customers. She could give riding lessons—But Fordney's Gulch was singularly horseless, except for a few weary nags that worked ceaselessly at the mines. The latest model Ford was the badge of prosperity and impeccable social standing in Fordney's Gulch.

Quietly Judith commenced to sell off her precious things—hook glasses, Egyptian silver bowl with all the Pharaohs on it—The prices were pitifully small. Fordney's Gulch did not take kindly to things that looked old and battered when they were supposed to be new, but Mrs. Kraus grabbed at Judith's silver fox, her fur coat, Judith's bracelet—

And so old lady Fate piled up hazards for Reuben and Judith. With a fair measure of prosperity they would have gradually worked out their happiness, would have made a go of things. As it was—

Poverty gnawed at Judith's spirit as a rat gnaws at a board. It was hard to live up to Gran's teachings. Hard not to bow to Adversity, to laugh at it over your shoulder, deny its existence—

Poverty gnawed at Reuben's self-respect—at his scant remaining faith in himself, riddling it. Inevitably the hour had struck for the Olivers. Gran must be appealed to. There could be no further argument about it. The time for pretense had passed.

"Write the letter now, Judith," Reuben avoided his wife's eyes. His voice was raw. He was tasting the wormwood of defeat. "No use to put it off."

"No—no use." Six dollars upstairs in the bureau drawer. "If it wasn't for the babies I'd die before I'd write to Gran."

Reuben handed her his fountain pen. "Ask for $500."

"I'll say we'll pay it back soon."

"Say we may never pay it back."

"It's—on your account—"

"I'd rather they get it straight this time."

Reluctantly, as though it were a hot coal, her fingers closed over the pen. On the little spinet desk near her was paper. "You'd better take it right down to the post office, Reuben!"

He thought: "I don't believe they'll send a cent. Probably force her to go back to them—to leave me." He said: "I'll send it special."

Into this moment of defiance and desperation walked—Cissy.

Day by Day Lessons for Reading During Lenten Season

Monday before Easter—Read Isaiah 63

In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. But they rebelled, and vexed his Holy Spirit.—From the Epistle for the Day.

The theme of the Epistle today is the great goodness, the tender mercies, the multitude of the loving kindness of God. God is ever the same: the same now as He was then. And man too is ever the same, rejecting God's goodness, doubting or making light of His love.

Let us meditate today on those gracious words, "Thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer; Thy Name is everlasting." Remember that these words are not spoken only for the faithful few. Let us make ourselves one with all these our brethren, with all the troubled world of today, which looks for help to armaments and regimentation, not to the power and wisdom and love of God. Are we any better than these? Do we look to God's power and wisdom in our own troubles?

O Thou who wast from the beginning, but who didst stoop to live the life of men, may we, amid the manifold duties, the harassing trifles, the anxieties, the disappointments, the sorrows and bereavements of this mortal life, dwell inwardly in Thy unbroken peace.

undesignated do proclaim a three-hour holiday on Good Friday, and respectfully express the hope that all commercial houses in Rochelle may close during the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 3 P. M. on Friday, April 15, 1938, that all who desire may retire to their several places of worship for the devout consideration of those august events which this day commemorates.

Signed P. R. Diederich, Mayor of Rochelle C. P. Unger, President, Chamber of Commerce

The name Easter is derived from the Anglo-Saxon word, Eostre, goddess of spring. Because calendars were changed and because Christians became scattered throughout the civilized world, confusion arose as to the date for the observance of Easter.

Rulings adopted at the Council of Nice in 325 A. D. setting a date for Easter removed confusion surrounding the observance of the festival. According to the promulgation adopted by the Roman Catholic church and taken over by other denominations as they arose, Easter Day is the first Sunday following the paschal full moon. Pascal is the Hebrew word for Passover which this year falls on April 16, the day before Easter Sunday.

In computing the day of Easter, "full moon" is on the fourteenth day of the calendar moon. If the full moon falls on Sunday, Easter is the following Sunday. The latest date possible for Easter is April 25. It will occur on that date in 1943.

The custom of presenting Easter eggs to one's friends is a custom thought to have come from Persia. Dyeing the egg is an addition of Christian culture. In early days of the color red was used to symbolize the blood of the redemption.

The Methodist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches of Rochelle are uniting during Holy week for special services. The program, as outlined by the Rev. Frank A. Campbell and the Rev. Paul Dibble, is as follows:

Tuesday, April 12, at M. E. church, Rev. F. A. Campbell. Wednesday, April 13, at Presbyterian church, Rev. Paul Dibble. Thursday, April 14, at the M. E. church, Communion service. Friday, April 15—Three-hour Good Friday service at the Presbyterian church.

JOHN HENRY OCKER

John Henry Ocker, son of Catherine and Samuel, was born April 30, 1866 at Mapleville, Washington county, Maryland and died at Fairview April 8, 1938 at the age of 71 years.

He came to Polo at the age of 13 and worked for several years on a farm before becoming engaged in business in town. In June, 1894 he was married to Verna Powell. To this union two children, Dorothy and Armond, were born.

He made his home on the farm known as "The Old John Powell Farm" where he and his family lived until 1900. For five years he was manager of a large tract of land belonging to Dr. Peter Fahrney at Wadsworth, Ill. At the expiration of his term he returned to the Powell homestead which he later purchased and where he lived until he moved to Polo in 1900.

For many years he was widely known as a successful auctioneer and participated in many very important occasions in this capacity.

November 29, 1916 he was stricken with sorrow when his wife was taken from him by death, but he continued with the operations of the farm, stock buying and auctioneering.

In November, 1921 he was united in marriage to Ella Fiegel and made his home in Polo, later moving to Dixon, Sterling and to Prairieville, where he passed away.

All his life he was known as a very active, good and sincere man. He leaves to mourn his widow, two children, Mrs. Dorothy Cooper and Armond, 4 grandchildren, one stepson Clayburn Fiegel and a host of relatives and friends.

It was hoped and expected that an increase in freight rates would make it possible to spend more money on the railroad—to increase payrolls and purchases.

These plans have been upset by denial of an adequate increase in rates and by continued decline in business and consequently in traffic and revenues.

Instead of increasing expenditures, it is necessary to reduce them in order to live within income.

That payrolls and purchases have to be reduced is a matter of deep regret that is shared by all who work for the railroad and by our neighbors.

This temporary reversal will not stop our railroad. We are determined to work all the harder to maintain the prestige of the Illinois Central System.

Rochelle's Christian churches prepared this week for religious service for the annual observance of Holy week which will reach a climax Sunday, April 17, in the festival observing the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Religious observances during the Lenten period have followed the practices inherent to the various denominations and creeds. Realization of the importance of the 40 days to all Christians prompted Mayor P. R. Diederich and Charles P. Unger, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to proclaim this week a three-hour holiday for Rochelle commercial houses from noon to 3 P. M. on Good Friday.

A. B. C. MEET IN STRETCH DRIVE NOW

Tournament To End April 19; Worley Bowled Sunday

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—The American Bowling Congress headed into the stretch drive today with only one change in the standing produced by the firing yesterday. The tournament will end April 19. Ed Worley of Dixon rolled in the first Sunday afternoon.

Fifth place in the all-events was taken over by Leonard Dettloff of Detroit with a score of 1938. A 376 in team competition Saturday night cost him a chance of going into the all-events lead. He opened with 622 in the doubles yesterday and added 670 in the singles.

Richard Winkelman of Omaha, who rolled a 677, was the only bowler to top the Detroit leader in the singles during the day's activity. Schwartz Brothers alleys of Niagara Falls, N. Y., hung up a 2918 total to lead 80 teams in the night division. Their score left them more than 100 pins below the first five. Second highest with 2884 were the Killian Celtics of Akron, Ohio.

The midnight shift was topped by the Louise Tavern of Cleveland, which tumbled the pins for a 2864 score.

BROWNS STILL KINGPINS OF CITRUS LOOP

New York, April 11—(AP)—Although they sustained their first defeat of the spring training schedule in their first encounter with the league opposition, Colonel Gaby Street's St. Louis Browns today are still king-pins of the Grapefruit league.

That one trimming, by the Chicago Cubs, is the lone blot on the Browns' 18-game record. Since their closest rivals, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers, each have lost five games, and the opening of the major league campaigns is only a week away, it's a record that's likely to make the St. Louis Browns champions of the citrus circuit for 1938.

Tie for Second
The Tigers, winners in all seven of their games last week, came up from fourth to tie for second and pushed the New York Giants down to fourth place. But the St. Louis Cardinals, also winning seven, made the biggest advance, from tenth to fifth. The Redbirds' record is 17 and 10, compared with the Giants' 16 and six.

The National Leaguers saw their margin in inter-league competition cut considerably. The standing now is: National 44, American 42, compared with the 36-31 score of a week ago.

Top team in inter-league competition is the Pittsburgh Pirates, unbeaten in three starts, all against the Chicago White Sox.

FIRST ENTRIES

Initial clubs to enter a district tournament in the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress program are Bill St. Johns' Great Neck, N. Y., club, the Swamp Angels, and the Babylon White Sox, who will compete in the Long Island district meet under the supervision of Lawson Cohen, district commissioner.

YANKS, GIANTS FAVORITES TO RETAIN TITLES

Doyle Rates Yankees Odds-On Favorites By
7 to 10

New York, April 11—(AP)—The New York Yankees and Giants have been installed by Jack Doyle, New York's betting commissioner, as favorites to repeat their pennant triumphs of 1937.

Doyle rates the Yankees, even money choice last year, odds-on favorites at 7-10, despite the fact that the world champions have not yet signed Joe DiMaggio and despite their sloppy spring showing.

The Giants, rated third by Doyle in 1937, were priced at 8-5.

Doyle forecasts a three-club race in each circuit.

IN SPRING TRAINING CAMPS

Activities of Major League Teams in the South and West Prior to Opening of Baseball Season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Manager

Bill McKeehmie, sorely disappointed

over the showing of his Cincinnati Reds pitching staff, was in the market for a good right-hander today. Paul Derringer is on the sick list, Johnny Vander Meer is having control trouble and Al Hollingsworth has fallen short of training camp expectations.

Atlanta, Ga.—The New York

Yankees have two streaks to boast about—their string of consecutive victories, and Lou Gehrig's feat of hitting safely in his last 10 games.

Both may be extended in today's finale of the series with the Atlanta Crackers.

Fort Smith, Ark.—Dissatisfied with available replacements for injured shortstop Luke Appling,

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox is considering the recommendation of Bob Tarleton, vice-president of the Dallas, Texas league club, who insists that his

Jim Levey is "the best fielding shortstop in the minors."

Norfolk, Va.—The ball that hit

Lamar (Skeeter) Newcome, regular shortstop of the Philadelphia

Athletics, on the head Saturday and sent him to Norfolk Naval Hospital may bring Wayne Ambler back from Williamsport, where he was sent on option.

Paducah, Ky.—There was a chance that Hal Schumacher would have Harry Gumbert's allotted spot as the New York Giants' starting pitcher today when they resumed their series with the Cleveland Indians.

Gastonia, N. C.—Local citizens knew better than to make this

"Buddy Lewis Day" even though

Buddy and his Washington Senator teammates were here for an exhibition with the Boston Bees.

They staged an official welcome for him last spring, and Buddy made two errors, hurt his hand

when a grounder took a bad bounce, and went hitless.

Fort Worth, Tex.—Despite the fact his club lost both ends of a doubleheader to the Browns yesterday, Boss Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs maintains he could have one of the best relief pitching staffs in the league if he were to use Charley Root, Jack

Russell and Bob Logan as "Handy-

Andies."

Winston-Salem, N. C.—From

Manager Joe Cronin's expression, you'd think the Boston Red Sox pilot were listening to sweet music. He did just that yesterday, when Pinky Higgins blasted two homers and a single and Joe Vosmik a four-bagger and a single off the Reds' pitching.

Savannah, Ga.—Before they left

Florida for the northward trek, the Dodgers were willing to put veteran Freddie Frankhouse on the auction block. But the Brooklyn right-hander has done so well recently—he shut out Jacksonville with two hits in three innings yesterday—that Boss Burleigh Grimes has just about decided to hang on to him.

Asheville, N. C.—The Phillies

may not get far after the National league pennant race starts next week, but at least their pitching staff is rounding into shape.

Wayne Lamaster and Claude Passeau showed mid-season form as they turned back Knoxville, 3-1 yesterday. Today the Phils meet

Asheville of the Piedmont league.

Gastonia, N. C.—If he keeps hitting, Rookie Max West may be on first base when the Boston Bees open the season next Tuesday at against the Giants. The 21-year-old

Californian got another test today against Washington.

Paducah, Ky.—Sammy Hale was back on the job today as the Cleveland Indians took up their series with the Giants, and teammates agreed he wasn't fooling

when he said his arm had recovered all its old power. After two weeks of rest and treatment, the Chicago, April 11 - (Spring has certainly been delayed enroute to Chicago and the mid-west, but blame should not be placed on the steps of the official harbingers, the circus. Already press agents, bill-posters and other advance agents are bustling about proclaiming the coming of Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty Circus to the Chicago Stadium for a 17 day engagement. Next Friday, April 15th, the petite and dainty aerialists, the grotesque clowns, the sturdy acrobats and the daring equestrians will vie for applause with the fearless wild animal subjugators, the high wire artists and Florenz, the man that turns a triple somersault in an automobile, while being hurled through space. The Cole-Beatty engagement will continue twice daily including Sunday night, May 1st. Manager Zack Terrell promises the greatest array of spanglers and celebrities ever assembled. The circus trains will leave Rochester, Ind., quarters within a few days, so as to be on hand for the official opening of the 1938 season Friday, April 15. Heading the list of stars with the big circus is Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest wild animal subjugator. Ken Maynard, noted western picture cowboy, Dorothy Herbert, sensational equestrienne, the Gretonas, the flying Harolds, Jorgen Christiansen, Maximo, Rita LaPlata, the Hobsons, the Zavatta troupe, the Zooppe Family, and 500 famous performers will all make their appearance during the three ring, two stage program. Bigger and better than ever, is what the press lads say about the 1938 show.

HITLER GIVEN BIGGEST VOTE OF HIS CAREER

His Armed Seizure of Austria Approved in "Election"

Berlin, April 11 - (AP) - The greatest turnout of voters in German history gave Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler the biggest majority of his career in Sunday's Anschluss plebiscite.

Nearly 50,000,000 men and women marched to the ballot box or were carried there, or had the ballot box carried to them if they were ill.

Of these, 48,799,269 voted "yes" in approval of Germany's annexation of Austria. There were 452,180 "no" votes and 75,342 were classified as invalid.

The percentage of "yes" votes was 99.987, as compared with 98.79 achieved in the Rhineland remilitarization plebiscite of March, 1936, when 49,952,476 Germans voted "yes."

The highest pitch of affirmative expression was reached in Austria, where the voters gladdened the fuhrer's heart with a 99.75 per cent "yes" vote.

The unofficial complete vote for Austria alone was 4,270,517 yes, and 11,263 in the negative. There were in all Germany 49,546,950 qualified voters. (The number qualified in Austria alone was not given, but the population is about 6,750,000.)

With the counting completed, there were rumors of a sweeping political amnesty - Hitler's gesture of benevolence and gratitude. But there was no official confirmation.

Some persons, especially in Vienna, feared the aftermath might be strong action against former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's enthusiasts and the Jews.

The vote, held less than a month after Hitler's armed forces marched into Austria, culminated an energetic Nazi drive to stir popular enthusiasm.

Hitler declared in a nation-wide broadcast that "this hour is the proudest in my life."

Germans and Austrians, in voting, cast their ballots "for the list of Adolf Hitler," and left it to the fuhrer to select from this list of 1,717 candidates the enlarged reichstag of approximately 740 Germans and 70 Austrian members.

The fuhrer will have a busy nine days at the capital, attending to official business. Then will come his birthday celebration, with a military parade in the morning and the premiere of the 1936 Olympics film at an evening gala performance.

After that Hitler intends to go to his mountain home in Berchtesgaden for a rest, getting ready for his Italian visit beginning May 3.

(Contributed)

Sarah Rebecca Yothers was born in Center county, Boggs township, Pennsylvania, in 1857. When a child she came west to Ashton then Ogile Station with her parents in 1860. She attended the public schools and grew to womanhood and was married to C. R. Selover in January, 1876, at Dixon.

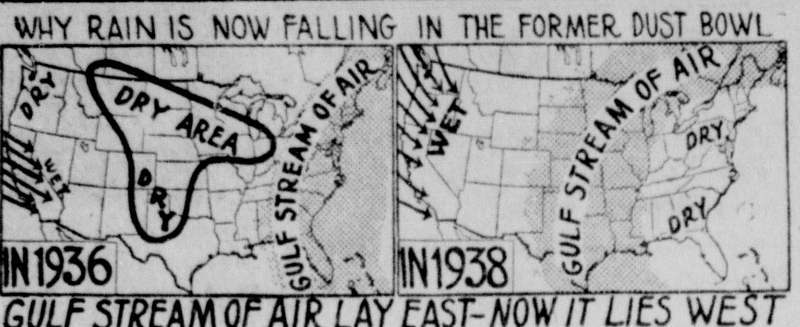

She lived in Lee county her entire life with the exception of a few years. She was the mother of two children. One died at the age of eight years. She was foster mother to a son, W. D. Selover of Sterling, who with his six sons and two daughters, survive her. One daughter of Cedar Rapids, Ia., one granddaughter and three great-grandchildren also survive. Others to mourn her loss are two brothers in California and numerous relatives.

She always attended church and about 50 years ago gave her heart to God. She and her husband united with the Methodist church at South Elkhorn, Ill., in Carroll county. She tried to do her duty as she said, day by day. A few years ago she was united with the Bethel church of Dixon.

DO YOU KNOW

The early symptoms of cancer are persistent lumps, bleeding, discharges and sores? The early diagnosis of cancer is undoubtedly the greatest single factor in successfully combating the disease.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Why It Is Wet In the Former Dust Areas of the West

Most of the former dry areas of the Western Plains are now green with grass. Flowers are blooming over expanses where only two years ago there was drifting dust. Western streams which were recently dry are now filled with water. What is the reason for this? Has science any answer to this riddle? Yes. The answer lies in the location of the Gulf Stream of the Air. There is a river of wet air which flows through the earth's air envelope and brings rain and water to the eastern and central portions of the United States. This river of air follows in a general way the path of the Gulf Stream of the Ocean, hence its name, the "Gulf Stream of the Air."

This Gulf Stream of the Air gathers heat and moisture along the shores of South America and in the Caribbean Sea, and Gulf of Mexico and by the time it reaches the coast of Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, and Florida it is full of water vapor. As it passes over the land it drops this moisture as rain. The Gulf Stream of the Air does not keep the same path all the time. Due to the varying gravity pull of the moon and the sun on the earth's air envelope, the Gulf Stream of the Air shifts its course. Sometimes it lies in the east over the Atlantic Seaboard, and other times it comes as far west as the base of the Rocky Mountains. Where the Gulf Stream flows we have plenty of rain. Where it does not flow we have only drought.

During the recent dry years in the west the Gulf Stream of the Air moved along the Atlantic Seaboard. On several occasions I visited the Atlantic states to watch the Gulf Stream of the Air in action there. Once my party went through a heavy storm—tropical in its severity—in North and South Carolina and Georgia, where rain came down in such torrents that the water stood inches deep on top of an elevated highway. The top of our touring car was little protection in such a downpour and the cushions of the car were soaked like sponges. We then drove rapidly to New Orleans, and from there we turned north through Arkansas into the dusty area. Before the seat cushions of the car dried out we were running through dust so thick that it was impossible to see many yards ahead on the road. This incident shows the difference between country traversed by the Gulf Stream of the Air and country

Air from the Gulf of Mexico, was unusually strong in the middle west last winter and dominated conditions in this area.

Question—That heavy nucleus in the center of the earth of only 2,000 feet in diameter which you described recently, is interesting. I'd like a hint of how mathematics can discover such a thing? (H. G. B.)

Answer—In fourth dimension mathematics the world is thought of as consisting of four things, space, time, energy and matter. The ordinary rocks we stand on are surprisingly empty of matter, consisting mostly of energy—molecules in motion. But deep in the center of the earth there are rocks that are mostly matter.

Question—How is the average rainfall per month found? Per year? How often does it rain? (D. C.)

Answer—To find the average rain per month we take the total inches of rain in the rain gauge, and divide it by the days of the month. For a year, we divide by 365. In agricultural areas, on the average, it rains once every 3 days. On a 50-50 basis, you can always bet it won't rain, and win.

FRENCH PREMIER MAY FOLLOW IN BRITAIN'S STEPS

New Government May Seek Conciliation With Mussolini

Paris, April 11.—(AP)—Quick efforts to end differences with Italy were predicted in parliamentary quarters where the new government of Edouard Daladier was said today to be planning to fall fully in line with the British conciliatory policy.

It is understood that, in return for an Italian promise to keep out of Spain after the war is ended and to send no further troops to the insurgent army, the French government is flirting with the idea of granting recognition to the king of Italy as emperor of Ethiopia.

The agreement would be followed by appointment of a French ambassador to Rome, to replace the present charge d'affaires. The last appointed ambassador to Rome never took his post because France did not recognize the Ethiopian conquest.

The Daladier government, especially with Georges Bonnet in the foreign office, is viewed on all sides as likely to plot a conservative international course.

Strikes and France's financial need, estimated a 1,000,000 francs (about $30,725) a week above present income by the outgoing Leon Blum, were the first pressing problems before Daladier and his "national defense" cabinet, however.

The minister of labor, Paul Ramadier, began efforts to solve the metal workers' strikes about Paris, calling the employers and workers' representatives to separate conferences.

Political circles said the conservative Daladier, who formed a cabinet yesterday with himself both as premier and defense minister, would ask full economic and financial powers for six months from the relucient Senate which on Friday refused such authority to the Socialist Blum.

Daladier's ministry, a swing from the People's Front of the past two years, with himself numbers 13 radical-Socialists and six members of smaller center groups. There are no Socialist members.

His government, Daladier said in a national broadcast, will concern itself with national defense as the "only one problem today."

He appealed for "voluntary discipline and labor" from all Frenchmen to solve the accompanying "political, social, economic and financial problems" which he said were "bound to the question of safeguarding peace."

BRITAIN OPENS WAY

Geneva, April 11.—(AP)—Britain moved today to open the way for recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia by formally requesting that the Ethiopian question be considered by the league council meeting opening May 9.

This was the first tangible result of the Anglo-Italian negotiations in Rome, which have produced a new but as yet unpublished agreement for settling differences between the two powers dating from the Ethiopian war and aggravated by the Spanish civil conflict.

In compliance with the British request, the league's secretary-general ordered the Ethiopian question placed on the provisional agenda which must be approved by the council in its opening session.

At the same time Britain's note to the league was ordered communicated to all members of the council and to Haile Selassie, the deposed and exiled emperor of Ethiopia.

In return for British recognition of her rule over Ethiopia, Italy is understood to have agreed to keep out of Spain after the Spanish war is ended.

The British move, asking that "the consequences of the present situation in Ethiopia" be placed on the agenda, was considered certain to result in discussion at the May council meeting, since such a request by Britain never has been rejected.

SENATOR BERRY AND HIS UNION ARE DEFENDANTS

United States Senator George L. Berry of Tennessee, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union, of North America, of which he is president, and seven Chicago officers of the union were charged with conspiracy to seize and control the union in a suit filed in the United States District court in Chicago by twenty-three members of Franklin union No. 4 of Chicago. The plaintiffs ask a temporary injunction to prevent the defendants from doing them bodily harm, from intimidating them, and from concealing or transferring funds of the union. The suit, which was filed by Attorneys John R. Sullivan and James Daniels, charges that Senator Berry and other officers have refused to permit an election of officers since 1928 and that men who have tried to bring about an election have been either intimidated or threatened with expulsion from the union. Gag rule at meetings has been invoked since 1934 and no accounting of funds has been made in ten years, the petition charges. Judge Philip L. Sullivan will hear the suit.
